Experience

FRONT-END PROJECT

Movie & Music Search Application using JavaScript, HTML5,CSS

JUN-2024

In this article, we are going to make a movie search application using JavaScript. It will use an API which is a RESTful web service to obtain movie information. We will be using HTML to structure our project, CSS for designing purposes and JavaScript will be used to provide the required functionality.

Weather Forecasting

MAR-2022

Implemented features including instant access to current weather details for any city input, displaying key metrics such as temperature, humidity, wind speed, and weather description with intuitive icons. Additionally, incorporated a 5-day forecast feature allowing users to explore future weather trends, showcasing skills in user interface design and data visualization.
